Russ Pfohl Adds Sibley Award to Distinguished List of Achievements

By BILL THOMPSON

Russ Pfohl, Deer Lodge, was named winner of the Sibley award for his annual singing on the steps, Friday evening in Main hall auditorium. Pfohl, a member and leader of 13 different campus organizations, and a consistent honor student, was given the award in recognition of his service and efforts on behalf of the University. The inscription on the award, which is a bronze plate measuring 8 inches by 13 inches, reads:

In recognition of highest loyalty, constructive imagination in upholding the traditions and innovations of Montana State University.

Pfohl is the third winner of the University to Give Honorary Degree to Federal Judge

U. S. District Judge Charles N. Pray, Great Falls, will be honored at the 58th annual MSU commencement June 6 as one of the most distinguished citizens in Montana and the Northwest. The University will confer an honorary Doctor of Laws degree on Judge Pray for his service both the state and the nation. Judge Pray is the senior judge in the line of service of all Federal district judges in the Ninth Judicial circuit. He is also known as one of the men most responsible for the creation of Glacier National park. The latter resulted from a bill introduced in Congress while he was Montana representative-at-large. He was a member of the 60th and 62nd Congresses in 1907-09 and 1911-13.

Judge Pray was appointed to the U. S. District Court by Pres. Calvin Coolidge and has served since Nov. 21, 1924. He was born in Potsdam, N.Y., in 1869, attended Middlebury college in Vermont, and received his bachelor of Law degree from the Chicago College of Law in 1891. He was admitted to the bar in 1892, practiced in Chicago from 1893 to 1895, and in Fort Benton, Mont., from 1896 to 1906. After two terms in Congress, he was a public primary nominee for U. S. Senator in 1916. He was president of the Organization of District Judges for the Ninth Circuit in 1950-52.

plaque which is presented traditionally at the SOS held during the Interscholastic track meet. Bob Gilluly, Glasgow, chairman of Traditions board, made the presentation. The two previous holders of the award, neither of whom are now attending MSU, were Dick Shadoan, Billings, and Kay Hudson, Rapid City, S.D.

The dark, slightly-built young honor student, who is graduating this June, included among his activities: chairmanship of Outside Entertainment committee, presidency of the Student Union, membership in three honorary organizations and three clubs, work on two committees for campus activities, associate editor of The Sentinel, and parts in two plays. His grade-point average in four years of university work is 4.0.

When asked if he had any previous warning that he had been selected as winner of the plaque, Pfohl said that he had been completely unaware of his selection until two or three minutes before the actual presentation. He said, "There were many others who deserved it just as much, if not more, than I." He was nominated for the award by two Greek houses and the Independents.

The three-man board which judged the nominations was composed of Pres. Carl McFarland, Don Chaney, Livingston, past president of ASMSU, and Gilluly.

Pfohl, a major in modern languages, said that he would attend MSU during the summer. He is also winner of a Fulbright scholarship which will enable him to continue his study of languages at Strasbourg, France, this coming year. He will sail from New York on Sept. 21.

When he returns from France, Pfohl said he would possibly enter Johns Hopkins university where he has been offered a scholarship.

He is also holder of the Elks and the Bonner scholarships which include a total financial award of $1,250.

Pfohl said, when speaking of his long-range plans, that he would probably enter the teaching profession, try writing, or work for the Federal government.

Sec. Dulles Reports Big Four to Seek New Peace Paths

By the United Press

New paths to peace may be opened by the Big Four chiefs of state conference with Russia, said John Foster Dulles, secretary of state, yesterday.

Peace will come only if we stick to our policy of dealing with Russia from strength, said Dulles.

Dulles reported to the nation on his nine-day trip to Paris and Vienna in a broadcast from the President's office. Eisenhower interrupted from time to time to underline a point or ask a question.

The nine days spent in Europe may mark a "turning point of history," said Dulles.

The Administration Bill...

...to guarantee polio vaccine to all young people through 19 received joint sponsorship from Sen. Lister Hill (D, Ala.), and Sen. Alexander Smith (R, N.J.).

The bill provides a $28 million fund to buy shots for an estimated 10 to 11 million poor children.

LSA Plans Camp At Elliston Friday

The Montana Region Lutheran Student association retreat will be Friday through Sunday at the Lions' Sunshine camp near Elliston, 22 miles west of Helena.

Those interested in attending the LSA retreat entitled "The Stewardship of Life," should contact Norm Nelson at South hall. The cost will be $3 including board and lodging from supper Friday through breakfast Sunday. Transportation will be provided.

The retreat begins early Friday morning with registration and ends Sunday at noon. During that time ministers from all over the state will speak. The opening address will be delivered by the Rev. Alvin Rogen, Protestant chaplain for Montana state institutions. The keynote address will be given by the Rev. Roderick Johnson of Missoula.

And a New President Steps in...

Former ASMSU president, Don Chaney, Livingston, standing, gives a few pointers to incoming president, Gary Jystad, Kalispell, as they discuss the recent PSPA convention in San Diego, Calif., that Jystad and the other 1955-56 ASMSU officers attended.

The newly elected "big four" officially begin to set MSU gears into motion at their first Central board meeting this Thursday. According to Jystad, petitions for ASMSU committee membership will be released soon.

Education School to Offer New Curriculum, Doctorate

New curriculum, courses, and degrees will be offered to MSU students in the 1955-56 school year.

The education curriculum will add a new field of preparation for teaching in the elementary grades.

Students preparing to teach in the elementary grades major in education; those preparing to teach particular subjects, either in junior or senior high school, major in the principal subject to be taught, or in Education.

Pre-education students must earn a minimum of 40 credits in education, including a number of required courses. In addition elementary education students must complete specific requirements in the general education area.

Requirements for University recommendation for an elementary teaching certificate are a bachelor's degree and completion of a four-year course in elementary education.

New Degree Granted

The doctor of education degree, offered for the first time next year, is designed for those who wish to prepare for teaching, administrative, supervisory positions in elementary or secondary education. It is conferred in recognition of breadth of scholarly attainment and demonstrated ability to investigate problems independently and effectively rather than for the completion of a set curriculum in a certain period of residence.

To be admitted to this program the student must have been granted full admission to the Graduate school. In addition, he must have a master's degree and present evidence of successful teaching or administrative experience.

A minimum of nine quarters of residence work beyond the bachelor's degree are required. Forty-five quarter credits beyond the master's level must be taken at MSU.

A minimum of 40 credits of graduate work in related areas is required and an average of "B" will be required for residence work at MSU.

Latin for Lawyers

"Classical Latin for Lawyers," a five-quarter course, will be offered to freshman pre-law students and others who may be interested in fulfilling a language requirement. This class is designed to give lawyers a reading knowledge of the language.

Readings will be done primarily on Roman law and common law to give the students ideas of the different legal sources.

Other new courses will also be available to students majoring in various departments of the University.

ASMSU Officers Compare Montana To Other Colleges

Editor's Note—This is the final in a two part interview with the four ASMSU officers who returned Monday from the Pacific Students Presidents association in San Diego, Calif. The four making the trip were Gary Jystad, Kalispell, president; Bruce Crippen, Billings, Business manager; Ann Crocker, Missoula, secretary; and Mary Ellen Erickson, Aberdeen, S.D., vice-president.

By SUE MUNN

The ASMSU officers found the honor system is feasible and will work on campuses of this approximate size. It has worked and is now working in many schools. In schools where the honor system is now in use, the project is left entirely to students with no faculty entering in any way, according to the group. Students in the schools which have the honor system are very much in favor of the system and none plan to discontinue it.

They also learned that MSU has one of the smallest executive bodies in comparison to its size. Where this campus has 11 actual voting delegates, other schools, some smaller, have a minimum of 15 or 20 possible votes. Some schools have their administration set up similarly to the national idea, with a judicial council, senate, and house of representatives.

Jystad feels that if there were more delegates, more interest in student government would be built up because more students would come in closer contact with the administration.

Another idea the officers brought back is a suggestion to change the means by which student delegates are chosen. Choose the representatives from more distinct groups than entire classes, such as the different living groups and halls, and some of the larger organizations on campus. That way, a more overall representation would be accomplished.

Steam Valve . . .

Dear Editor,

In regard to Mr. Jack Howell's letter in the May 17th issue of the Kaimin, it seems that this is the natural stand for anyone in the production of "Taming of the Shrew" to take. No one likes to be told that he isn't successful in whatever he does, but you aren't the only one, Jack, that has shed tears when he hasn't been a success. Even ex-president Truman blew his stack when the critics gave Margaret a poor review.

It's unfortunate that Mr. Howell couldn't have seen himself in the "Shrew." Perhaps then he wouldn't have made the snide remarks about Mr. Goddard's acting.

It seems to me that in Mr. Goddard's review of the "Shrew," he "calls 'em as he sees 'em." May I congratulate him on reporting what he thought of the production and not what the cast wanted him to think.

Sincerely yours,
Howard C. Mahan

Frosh Vote Shows Democracy Needs Stout Shot of Vigoro

Last Thursday was the first time we have ever witnessed an election in which everybody lost.

Ted Molthen, Butte, defeated Jerry Weller, Wausau, Wis., in the run-off for sophomore class president, 97 to 86. The two had tied in the general election with 213 votes each. More votes were cast for each candidate in the general than the combined total in the final.

With this lack of support Molthen must feel as defeated as Weller. And the freshman electorate stabbed itself by allowing less than one sixth of its population to determine its top officer.

Democracy Is Not Being Practiced . . .

This kind of delinquency not only makes the freshmen look sick—it reflects on the entire University. We have sprained our brain trying to find even one basic American institution that practices democracy. We haven't found one. The family doesn't, the church doesn't, the school doesn't.

Democracy isn't like the weather. You can talk about both, but you can do something about democracy. You can vote. You can change things that need changing. But democracy is not indestructible. Democracy is a plant that requires light, water, food, and sometimes pruning.

If the people in our universities, this country's future leaders, fail to do this gardening job, who will?

. . . It's Time to Take Responsibility

If the miserable showing of this run-off election indicates that a change is needed, and we think it does, then why don't we make the change?

An amendment that would have done away with most of these vestigial class offices was defeated 630 to 447 at the general election. When this amendment comes up again next year, let's take the blinders off. Let's remember last Thursday's election.

JUNIOR WOMEN ELIGIBLE FOR WAC COMMISSIONS

Junior women may qualify for commissions in the Women's Army corps, according to Col. Fred McManaway, chief of the Montana military district.

Any woman who is a junior in an accredited college or university may apply for enlistment in the grade of corporal E-4. She will take six weeks' summer-camp training at the WAC center, Ft. McClellan, Ala., from July 1 to Aug. 15, 1955.

Subject to final selection by the Army department, the applicant would be commissioned upon graduation.

Kurtz to Speak At Pharm Dinner

Jay M. Kurtz, Missoula county attorney, will be the guest speaker at the annual pharmacy school awards banquet Thursday in the MSU Lodge.

Dr. Jack E. Orr, dean of the pharmacy school, will present the awards, and install the new officers for the student branch of the American Pharmaceutical association.

The retiring officers will be replaced by Donald Peterson, Wisdom, president; Karl Tambornini, Crockett, Calif., vice-president; John Green, Missoula, secretary; and Jon Severson, Missoula, treasurer.

Serving for the past year as president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, were Max Makich, Missoula; Donald Enebo, Stevensville; LaQuita Lahn, Miles City, and Lola Anderson, Belmont, N.H.

Kaimin Talk

In a poll taken of the 1915 freshman English classes, 45 students were for the Allies, 23 for neutrality, and 16 for the Germans in World War I.

Beach and Wright ran Dickens a close race for the place of favorite author. Dickens won seven votes, while Wright and Beach polled six each. Other favorites were Hugo, Eliot, and Bower.

Life magazine was preferred by six students interviewed, but Outlook polled 13 votes to win in this category. The Missoulian was rated top newspaper, with the Anaconda Standard and the New York Times rated second and third.

To the question, "Who is the greatest living man today?" Thomas Edison received 25 votes, and Wilson 23. Teddy Roosevelt, Booker T. Washington, Kaiser Wilhelm, and John Bunney were mentioned, in that order.

Thursday's Tilt Will Give Fans Sneak Preview of '55 Grizzlies

Montana fans will get a sneak preview of the 1955 edition of the football team Thursday under the lights on Dorn field, when Jerry Williams' club faces the Alumni in the annual Booster game, red by Missoula sports enthusiasts.

Kickoff is set for 8 p.m. It will be the first opportunity for Silvertip's followers to see the coming sophomores, which make up the '55 roster, in action. The Cub games last season played away from home.

Grizzly backfield features three veterans—Captain Dale senior halfback, senior fullback, and junior quarterback Paul Enochson. Juniors Bissell, fullback; Dick Greg, fullback; and Clayton Schulz, fullback, were squad members in 1954.

Other backfield prospects are first year men. They are: Sam Agnello, Ben D'Amico, and Frank Scaletta, all from Niagara Falls, N.Y.; Guy Chicago; Roy Bray, Missoula; Norm Kampschror, Glenview, Ill.; Howard Johnson, Hamilton, Mont.; Mora, Great Falls; John Chuk, Sidney; Ronnie Raige, Sturgis; Tom Richardson, Missoula; Joe McDonald, Arlee; Ersnera, Lena, Wis.; and Burton Reseda, Calif.

Grenz, Miles City; Jim Johnson, Missoula; Roger Johnson, Missoula; Ron Johnson, Elmhurst, Ill.; Lou Pangle, Denver; Johan Prendergast, Cataldo, Ida.; Ed Prinkki, Red Lodge; Ted Rannow, Athens, Ohio; Tom Rubins, Kenton, Ohio; and Joe Toy, Great Falls.

Williams took his charges into the Field House Tuesday afternoon for a secret workout, the Grizzlies' final practice before the big game. Absolutely no visitors were allowed. This included Joe DeLuca, Dick Imer, and Tommy Kingsford, who have been working with the Grizzlies in spring drill, but will play with the Alumni Thursday night.

The Alumni worked out in pads Monday and Tuesday, and will taper off today with light ball-handling and signal drills.

Bob Lamely, former varsity tackle, has been contacted in Kalispell to play with the "Alums."

The women will conclude their spring softball tournament Wednesday with the championship battle between New Hall and Delta Delta Delta at 4:15 on the diamond next to the tennis courts. New Hall beat the Tri-Delts soundly in their previous round-robin meeting, but both teams are strong and "out to win that cup."

Kay Calvin will again take the mound for New Hall with the Tri-Delt pitcher still undecided.

PDT Sweeps IM Tennis In Championship Games

Phi Delta Theta won their first intramural championship of the year last week by sweeping the IM tennis tournament from Jumbolaya.

Paul Weingart took the singles matches from Jumbolaya's Norm Kampschror and then the Phi Delt's Bill Smith and Dirk Larsen teamed to down Kampschror and Rudolph Rhoades in the doubles.

Alumni Star . . .

Murdo Campbell, four-year letterman and one of Montana's most versatile backs, will be back in the harness Thursday night when he runs at right half against his former mates. During his collegiate career Campbell ran at every backfield position and was one of three Grizzly gridders selected to play in the Salad Bowl last Jan. 1.

Joint Store Meet Elects Officers; Cuthbert Resigns

Members of old Store board and newly-elected members met yesterday noon in the Lodge for the purpose of electing new officers for 1955-56.

Dave Johnson, Drummond, will replace John Earll, Great Falls, as president; John Dundas, Great Falls, will take over the vice-presidency from Creta Stucky, Las Cruces, New Mexico, and Jean Hollingsworth, Hamilton, replaces Jane Baier, Great Falls, as secretary.

Other new members are Sue Huntley, Wisdom, and Larry Gaughan, Missoula.

The old Store board called the meeting to acquaint new members with the duties and purposes of Store board and to help them get into the routine of the job. The new members, although elected in the spring, are usually not functioning until fall.

Assistant manager Jack Cuthbert submitted his resignation, to be effective June 30. His successor will be approved by Store board.

It was decided to hold one more joint meeting before spring term ends, to delve more thoroughly into problems confronting the board.

Employment Service Offers Job Selling Chinese-Made Clothing

By RICK LEE

Want to sell beautiful clothes, made of English fabrics by Chinese refugee tailors in Hong Kong?

The Student Employment office in Main hall recently received a letter from a student at the University of Missouri who said he was doing right well with these clothes. Now it seems he's interested in spreading out a little.

That is probably one of the strangest job opportunities that the employment service has received. Most of them are more prosaic. It seems that most everyone in Missoula needs a lawn raked, storm windows taken down, or some shovel work done.

However, for the student looking for full-time summer employment there's a need for counselors at the Trail Blazer camps in New Jersey, for wranglers on a dude ranch in Ovando, for someone to teach children to ride, hunt, and fish this summer near Ovando.

At the beginning of fall quarter the employment service has a number of steady night jobs to offer students, and there are many lawn raking and window washing jobs at that time.

Christmas brings a rush of jobs to help local stores with the shopping rush.

In the spring the storm windows come down, the screens go up, and there are many opportunities for yard work.

Job opportunities for wives of students are also kept on file in the office.

A summer job doing relief selling for the National Biscuit company was snapped up right away, and it might be a good idea not to wait too long before getting in touch with those refugee Chinese tailors.

WYOMING ACCIDENT KILLS '50 MSU MUSIC GRAD

George Ray Pew Jr., 26, graduate of the music school, was killed last week end near Dubois, Wyo., when the jeep in which he was riding overturned.

He had gone with a uranium prospecting group to Whiskey Mountain near Dubois, when the accident occurred.

Pew received his bachelor of music degree in June, 1950, and had done some advanced work in education on campus later. He intended to attend summer school this year.
